Rewarding Integrity...Kirby's Rewarded With New Roof

by Deb Price

Howard Kirby, an Ovid resident, found $43,000 inside a couch he purchased at the Habitat For Humanity ReStore in Owosso. He then returned the money to the store so that it may find its way back to the rightful owners. Why did he do that? Because he said it wasn't his. Daryl LaClair, owner of LaClair Home Restoration and Eikenhout, a Building Supply

Daryl LaClair, owner of LaClair Home Restoration and Eikenhout, a Building Supply Company in Saginaw, who specializes in roofing, siding and windows, teamed up together to give the Kirby's a much-needed new roof. "Howard reached out to me last year for a quote on a new roof," explained LaClair. After learning of the return of the found money, Daryl reached out to Howard and offered to replace his roof, donating the labor. Eikenhout in turn, donated the materials.

The work on the roofing project began last week and is expected to be finished this week. Daryl and his team of workers include Rob Tomasek, Dave Holland and Daryl's Uncle Bill, who came out of retirement to help. Waste Management donated the dumpster for the project.

Surely, many have asked themselves what they would have done if they were in Howard's shoes. That can only be contemplated by one's self. For Howard, that answer was clear.

Laingsburg Band Receive $16,000 in Grants and Gifts

submitted by Carrie Rathbun Hawks

Laingsburg – The Laingsburg Band Boosters recently received a total of $16,000 for new large instruments from several grants and gifts.

Signature Ford Group presented boosters president Stacey Brewer with $3,700 at its January 16 meeting. More than 180 people test drove Ford vehicles provided by Signature during the boosters' Drive 4 UR School fundraiser just before Laingsburg's homecoming game in September. The band received $20 for each of those drivers.

Next, the Laingsburg Educational Advancement Foundation granted the band program $10,000 for new marching mellophones and baritones.

"Our mellophones were beyond repair. Parts aren't even made for them anymore," explained a very grateful Thomas Cousineau, director of bands for Laingsburg Community Schools. "Our baritone cases were held together with duct tape, and so were parts of the instruments themselves. Every time we'd have to have them serviced to repair damage or fix a valve, for example, it would thin out the metal and affect the sound of the instrument. Our kids are troopers and made the best with what they had for many years. It's so nice to be able to give them new equipment. They deserve it!"

The band also received $1,800 in donations toward a new Sousaphone (marching tuba) through its online Giving Tuesday campaign in early December. The money will be combined with the $3,700 raised from the Drive 4 UR School fundraiser to purchase the instrument.

"Again, we have large instruments that cost thousands of dollars and are decades old in some cases," said Cousineau. "We put a lot of band aids on them and handle them with TLC to make them last. But there comes a time when we can't play them anymore."

TechSmith Corporation made a $500 donation – also at the January booster meeting – on behalf of Ashlie Helmer, a band booster member who applied for and received the dollars from TechSmith's Volunteerism and Employee Involvement Fund. TechSmith cited Helmer's "commitment to, and volunteerism with, the Laingsburg Band Boosters" as its reason for granting the money.

Laingsburg's band program has grown exponentially over the past 10 years. Its high school band is made up of one-third of the school population. Jazz bands are now in both the high and middle schools.

"We're so grateful for all the support we get from the boosters, administration, parents and our amazing community," added Cousineau, who has led the Wolfpack bands for just over 10 years.

Laingsburg Freshman Rachel Lalonde holds a new mellophone purchased for the Wolfpack Marching Band from a $10,000 grant made by the Laingsburg Educational Advancement Foundation. Three other mellophones and several marching baritones will also be procured with the money. Some of the students have been using instruments held together in part with duct tape and other band-aid fixes that were no longer viable.

Laingsburg Band Boosters Treasurer Tina Dafoe accepts a check from fellow band booster Ashlie Helmer, whose employer, TechSmith, recently donated $500 to the Laingsburg band program in honor of Helmer's volunteer efforts with the organization.

Signature Auto Group's Angela Falzon presents Laingsburg Band Boosters President Stacey Brewer with $3,700 at the group's January board meeting. The money was raised during a Drive 4 UR School fundraiser in September. It will be used toward the purchase of a new Sousaphone.

Absentee Ballots Available for March Presidental Primary Election

submitted by Mike Doyle

LANSING - Secretary of State Jocelyn Benson announced today that absent voter ballots are available with clerks across the state so voters can now request an absentee ballot for the presidential primary election.

Due to the constitutional amendment passed by voters in 2018, all eligible and registered voters in Michigan may request an absent voter ballot without providing a reason. They can visit their local clerk's office for an absent voter ballot application or download one at Michigan.gov/Vote.

There is no political party registration requirement and any Michigan registered voter can participate in the presidential primary on March 10. At the polling place and on the absentee ballot application, voters will be asked to select a presidential primary ballot for either the Democratic or Republican parties that also may contain local election items. Voters who do not wish to participate in the presidential primary may request a ballot that contains only local items.

Although some of the candidates have suspended their campaigns nationally, state law required the candidate listing to be finalized in December 2019. To have their name removed from the ballot, candidates had to submit a formal request in writing to withdraw their name to the Bureau of Elections by December 13, 2019.

All voters can visit the Michigan Voter Information Center at Michigan.gov/Vote to view the candidates and questions that will be on their ballot.

YES, You Should Be Compensated

Dear Andy,

A long time "friend" asked me to take 12 days off my job and fly to Florida to house sit and care for her husband while she had to take a trip out of the country. She requested I bring a friend so it wouldn't be too much work for me. I am 75 years old suffering from a recent accident and needed to use a wheelchair at the airport and a cane during the entire 2 weeks. I still work as a licensed home care aid because I need to work to pay my bills. My friend knows I do not have money and said it would be like a vacation – go to the pool every day, enjoy the sights and go out to dinner every night with her husband and get paid for it. Make sure he takes his meds and a bath every other day. She said to keep track of what everything costs and left within an hour after my friend and I arrived, as she pointed to the DNR posted on the wall.

The trip for me was planned with only one week's notice and my friend with a one-day notice. We were able to make the arrangements to find coverage for our jobs and buy airline tickets at a very reasonable price. We bought groceries for the 3 of us, made breakfast and lunch every day. We took the estranged husband, who recently had a stroke and could not drive and had limited abilities to care for himself, out to dinner every night.

The experience was the most challenging set of situations which included Ellis (not his real name) wondering away 3 time, bursts of anger all day long, and unreasonable demands of needs and wants. We took him everywhere he wanted to go. He ordered several acholic drinks and paid cash for them at three of our dinners. Never once did he pay for our dinners and when we asked, he said "I never have cash. My wife won't give me cash." He refused to use a credit card his wife left for him. We paid for all the meals, gas, entrance into events and the movies and drove to over 10 stores looking for eggnog. Ellis assured us that his wife would reimburse us since it was all his money anyway and that she was an expert accountant and had been managing his money for the 12 years they had been married.

Our expenses included taxi services, air, luggage fees, tips, time off work, eating at a nice restaurant every night at the tune of $1,000 for each of us. We itemized every expense and she said she was too tired the morning we left to discuss our expenses. We cleaned her house and bathrooms every day, played cards with her husband, cooked and swept floors and took good care of her mean, foul mouthed, drinking husband. The best thing that happened was when he got stuck in his walk-in tub for 3 hours. It forced him to be humble and appreciate our efforts with the promise not to call emergency services. He finally broke the door.

Here is the problem, the cash he had for his alcohol was taken from my friend purse, he said he figured we both had plenty of money. His wife, "my friend" said she does not think she should reimburse us after she went on a $10,000 trip to Dubai to buy cashmere and look for perspective husbands. She said it was privilege to stay in her beautiful home and drive a new Cadillac She couldn't believe how many miles we put on her "husband's" car.

On the bright side we did get to the pool 4 times for about an hour and to the beach for lunch 2 times and on a day off when his son was to visit, we had a shopping day (with our own money, of course). The crazy wife keeps texting me; asking obvious questions such as, where is the plastic recycling? Where is a silver pill cup? Where is her spoon rest? Why did you leave a list of the expenses? Did he look at the mail? Did he drink any alcohol? Did he yell at you? Question after question. I have ignored her calls.

I feel bad for my friend who helped me. I could not have done it without her. She kept me sane and helped me made decisions and she did all the driving because I could not take the yelling from the angry old man. And, she helped me with my wheelchair and even took me to the doctor twice to see if we could find help for my back. Stressed and Perplexed

Dear S & P.

Sounds like to me your Florida "friend" is not a friend at all! She sounds like a user with an immature selfish sense of entitlement. Perhaps she has had a tough life or grew up very poor and does not know how to recognize or appreciate others' generosity. I am happy to let you vent in this column. I will address some of the other concerns you stressed in your letter to me in a personal email. Sorry, but I had to cut out some of your text; it was rather long, but intriguing. And, yes, they should reimburse you.

Sadly, many people get used or duped every day from a so-call "friend." Sounds like your real "friend" is the one who went with you; but the other one, let her move on to another rich guy. However, I would answer her question as to the reason you left her a list of expenses. Simply tell her you must be compensated because it is "the right thing to do." It may not work but at least you did the "right thing." I am concluding this piece of advice with you and readers who often feel as if they were used... I don't recall where I read this but, here it is:

....If you are honest, people may cheat you. Be honest anyway. If you find happiness, people may be jealous. Be happy anyway. The good you do today may be forgotten tomorrow. Do good anyway. When you work to the best of your abilities, no matter how much you get paid. Your reward is doing your best. Be the best you can be. And, if it is not enough for some, give your best anyway.

Some Advice and thoughts from Andy at ask_andy@aol.com...easy as that!

There is always in February some one day, at least, when one smells the yet distant, but surely coming, summer.

--Gertrude Jekyll

MYLSF Scholarship Award Applications

submitted by Jeff Haarer

Lansing- Since 2000, the Michigan Youth Livestock Scholarship Fund (MYLSF) has awarded more than $585,725 in scholarships and educational awards to outstanding youth who have exhibited at the premier livestock events in the state of Michigan.

In 2020, a select number of applicants may be offered an opportunity to be interviewed, at the discretion of the MYLSF, prior to the Sale-Abration event for larger scholarship awards up to $5,000.

To be eligible for either the MYLSF general scholarship or the statewide scholarship, the applicant must be a resident of Michigan and a graduating high school senior or a high school graduate continuing their education at an accredited institution in the year in which they are applying.

For the general MYLSF scholarship, the applicant must be a youth exhibitor at the Michigan Livestock Expo, the Michigan Dairy Expo or the former Michigan State Fair, for a minimum of three calendar years prior to the year of application. For the statewide scholarship, an applicant must be a youth exhibitor at a local, county, or statewide exhibition for a minimum of three years prior to the year of application.

Specific proceeds from the Michigan Livestock Expo Sale-Abration auction as well as charitable donations help fund the scholarships. The fund is governed by a 10-member board comprised of volunteers from Michigan's agricultural community. Also, in 2019 approximately $15,000 was deposited into the Michigan Education Saving Plans for youth exhibitors who compete in judging and showmanship events at the Michigan Livestock Expo on the Michigan State University campus.

Applications and qualification requirements for the MYLSF and the statewide scholarship can be obtained at www.michigan.gov/mda-mylsf. Applications must be postmarked no later than Friday, May 15, 2020. If you have any questions, please contact Jeff Haarer, Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development's Producer Security Section Manager, at 517-284-5642 or HaarerJ@Michigan.gov; or Ernie Birchmeier, Michigan Farm Bureau's Livestock & Dairy Specialist, at 517-679-5335 or ebirchm@michfb.com.

John Alvin Kirby

John Alvin Kirby was born on September 29, 1942 and entered the pearly gates of heaven January 23, 2020. He was born in Blanchard, Michigan, to Arbutus (Serrels) and Merlin Kirby. John came from very poor beginnings. He was born in a chicken coop and bullied throughout school, yet graduated homecoming king. He hitchhiked his way through college earning his degree in auto body repair and business management. He was medically discharged from the Marines and married Elizabeth Ann (Betty) Minarik September 11, 1965.

In 1971 he opened Kirby Auto Body and began serving the community with great compassion. John was poisoned in 1979, and advised he would never walk again. Through a miraculous healing, he began his personal walk with Jesus Christ, and he was not shy about letting the love of Jesus shine through to everyone he met. Challenges and trials were no stranger to John, but he always stood up for what was right, and followed it through to the end.

John was an incredibly talented archer, hunter, auto body technician, mentor, and master of mending pretty much anything that was broken... including hearts. John had incredible intuition and patience, but his most noted talent was his ability to love unconditionally, help others, and always pick people up when they were feeling down.

To those who knew him, John was the most compassionate, loving, caring, and helping father, grandpa, and friend a person could be blessed to know. He loved the Lord, he loved his family, and he had tremendous respect for the values America was founded on, and the soldiers who protect our freedoms.

On July 18, 2016 Betty entered heaven and John has missed her dearly since that day. While our hearts are saddened with the loss, today we know that he is in heaven. There is no more pain, suffering, or hurt. He is basking in the glory of his savior, and that is where we find our strength and comfort.

John is survived by his children: Kathy, Dianna Naczi (Joe), John and Emily, David (Niki), his grandchildren: Jamison and Alexis Hoeve, Jonathan, Breckin, Rian, Kalyssa, Kassidy, and Nicholas Howell, siblings: Cora Goldman, Sharron Wagner (Terry), Howard, Bob (Linda); extended family: Vincent and Margo Minarik, Judy Minarik, Andy and Marge Minarik, Joe and Viola Minarik, Barb Minarik, many nieces, nephews, and special friends.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held at St. Cyril's Catholic Church, Bannister, MI, at 11:00 A.M. on Tuesday, January 28, 2020 with Rev. Fr. Rick Bokinskie. Burial has taken place at Riverside Cemetery, Elsie, MI.

Memorials can be made to Thorny Acres Sportsmans Club or Ovid-Elsie Sports Boosters. Online condolences can be made to www.smithfamilyfuneralhomes.com. The family is being served by Smith Family Funeral Homes, Elsie, Michigan.

Robert Lee "Bobby" Seelhoff

Robert was born in Carson City, Michigan on March 27, 1971, the son of Norman Scott and Sharon Kay (Salisbury) Seelhoff. On March 3, 1990, Bobby married Shawn Lynnette Fisher at Faith Baptist Church, Elsie, MI.

Bobby enjoyed woodworking, and fishing. He liked road trips on his motorcycle or in his jeep. Bobby enjoyed listening to old country music, watching westerns and dancing. He loved camping and spending time with his family, especially his grandchildren.

Bobby is survived by his wife Shawn Seelhoff of St. Johns; 3 children: Heath Seelhoff of St. Johns, MI; Heather (Thomas Peiffer) Seelhoff of Bannister, MI; and Holly (Tyler Little) Seelhoff of Corunna, MI; 5 grandchildren: Maxwell Perkins Jr., Kainen Seelhoff, Mary Jane Seelhoff, Colton Perkins, and Scottlyn Peiffer; and his parents: Scott (Debbie) Seelhoff and Sharon (Dearrell Cobb) Salisbury. He is also survived by 3 siblings: Kim (Paul) English, Ben (Jen) Cobb, and Nathan (Mindy) Seelhoff; sistersin-law: Sonja (Jeremy) Potter and Terri Fisher and many nieces, nephews and cousins. Bobby was preceded in death by his brother Scotty Seelhoff, grandparents, father-in-law Thomas Fisher, and mother-in-law Jean Fisher Wadley.

Funeral Services was held at Smith Family Funeral Homes - Houghton Chapel, Ovid, MI, on Friday, January 31, 2020, with Bobby's father, Pastor Scott Seelhoff, officiating. Burial has taken place at Mt. Rest Cemetery, St. Johns, MI.

A Pastor's Perspective

by LARRY SMITH

"The Importance of Worldview" (# 4)

Our goal in this series is to discover a life with meaning, purpose, peace and joy; a truly successful life. We found that many are confused and frustrated in life because they are seeking to fulfill a false picture of what life is supposed to be. These pictures are called our "worldview". Our worldview is the sum total of our beliefs about the world, the "big picture" or the "bottom line" of what constitutes reality. "A worldview is a framework of ideas and beliefs through which an individual interprets the world and interacts in it. In brief a worldview has been described as not what someone sees, but what one sees with." (Making Sense of Your World by Phillips and Brown)

The study of worldview is extremely practical as our choices in life are dictated by what we believe is real and true and this gives us our moral values, our sense of what is right and wrong. Consider the following men. Adolph Hitler is responsible for the killing of some 6 million Jews during World War II. It is believed that Joseph Stalin, the communist leader of Russia is responsible for the killing of 37 million of his own people, most through starvation. He is quoted as saying; "One death is a tragedy, but a million is merely a statistic." Pol Pot, the communist leader of Cambodia is believed to have killed some 2 million. How can you explain men who are so callus as to have been instrumental in the murder of so many millions of people? Insanity? The simple answer is in the fact that they believed something that wasn't true and therefore lived in a manner that wasn't right.

There are many different opinions as to which is the accurate worldview. I believe that here in the United States there are three that are culturally relevant. The first of these is "Naturalism". Those who ascribe to this view of reality would insist that the material universe is all that exists. That everything is explained on the basis of natural law and that man is a chance product of the process of evolution. Therefore, there are no objective values or morals. Morals are individual and social preferences and are subject to change over time. The second is "Postmodernism". Their picture of reality claims that there is no such thing as absolute truth. Your view of truth is based upon the way you were raised and is a product of your social setting. Tolerance, rejection of objective truth, and therefore the refusal to claim that we can know anything with certainty are their only universal values. The third is "Theism". Those who ascribe to this view of reality would claim that there is a personal, knowable, infinite God and that this God created the heavens and the earth. Truth can be known through the revelation of God and through the study of the material world. They would say that since there is a creator God moral values are the objective expression of this absolute moral being and do not change.

With many different worldviews and each claiming to be accurate how do we know which reflects reality. Is there one that will give us an accurate perspective of the truth? There is, and if we are to experience that successful life a major task for each of us is to discover it.

There are several things that should be considered in determining the correct picture of reality. First, it should be rational, not asking us to believe contradictory things. Second, there should be evidence consistent with facts, truth, science. Third, it must be able to explain why things are the way they are. Lastly it should give us a basis for living successfully; does it work? If you will bear with me in the weeks ahead, I would like for us to consider logical evidence that would direct us to the "correct picture" of life.

Plan on Voting March 10th

Clinton County's Board of Commissioners are requesting you consider voting in favor of a short-term millage to fund a complete revamp of the County-wide "911" emergency dispatch system. This will be on the ballot for the March 10th local election (which is also a Presidential Primary).

The current 911 equipment is literally on its last legs. Parts are no longer obtainable when various electronics fail. Meanwhile, the State of Michigan has developed new radio capabilities that link adjoining counties together so that major disasters can get more timely response. Our current 911 programming is not compatible with aspects of this networking. Without any doubt, as local fire and ambulance personnel will agree, it is time to update everything.

The latest estimates on the cost to Clinton County to do a complete upgrade are from 8 to 10 million dollars. After some serious consideration of alternatives, the Commissioners are asking you to vote on a levy of 0.85 mills (under 1 mill) for ten years. Within this proposal, the rates you currently pay for 911 on your land line, cellular phones and wi-fi tablets will actually go down, recovering for you part of the millage cost over future years of phone services. Nothing but 911 operational capability is involved in this request, it is "clean" of any riders.

From an assessing standpoint, on the average taxable value of a Clinton County home, the net cost of this proposal (after the savings on your phone bills) averages out at $27 per year, spread over ten years, after which the millage will go away. In the meantime, you will have a brand new 911 system that will be dependable and more cost-effective to operate.

You will have an opportunity to vote on this project March 10th. This is the same day as Michigan's Presidential Primary. Whether or not you choose to participate in the Primary, please remember that the 911 millage proposal will also be voted that day. As a board member of OMESA (our local fire and "medical first response" service) and CAASA (our local-regional ambulance system) I have listened to the details and reviewed the numbers and believe that our Commissioners have done their best possible to bring "911" to the same level of effectiveness we all expect.

As always, stop and see me or call with any questions you may have on this issue. You will also find our area Commissioner, Kam Washburn of Elsie, quite willing to explain all the details.

A Little Common Sense

by Crystal Mitchell

Another good day has begun.....I'm still capable of learning. I was having problems with my Bunn coffee maker and it is only a couple of years old. I finally decided that I would need to take it apart to fix the problem. So I did and miraculously it now works well. The white trigger had to be snapped back into place......how it came discombobulated is beyond my scope of comprehension. However, as I put everything back in place I realized how much construction dust had helped to gum up the works. I emptied the well and refilled it with white vinegar, put a clean filter into the basket and turned it on. The filter came out with a rusty chalk film.....so I refilled the machine with water, added a new filter and turned it back on. This time I had an orange-ish residue in the filter. Then I decided that I should run another pot of white vinegar through and the filter had a minimal show of color. Of course I ran two more pots of water through and finally had a white filter. I could finally make my morning brew....it has been a very satisfying start to the day. Now I need to purchase some more Bunn filters. My daughter did stress that I should only use Bunn filters.....so I will.

I've also managed to get the dishwasher loaded and it ran its cycle while I went up to the office to finish the bulletins, stuff them and get them delivered. So far I'm having a very productive day......wahoo. Time to address the laundry situation again; it is never ending!!!

William just came downstairs and finished off the soup that was left after Soup and Sandwiches Supper at the church on Tuesday. When we furnish, we make a big pot to share. The dinner was successful and we had twenty-five folks to share it. There were three soups, a beef vegetable, chicken noodle, and a chili plus divine toasted ham and cheese sandwiches followed by a fresh fruit salad, an apple cherry cake, a cheese cake topped with cherries and old fashioned tapioca pudding. I believe that all appetites were well sated and loaves of homemade bread were sent home to be enjoyed. It was a good day.

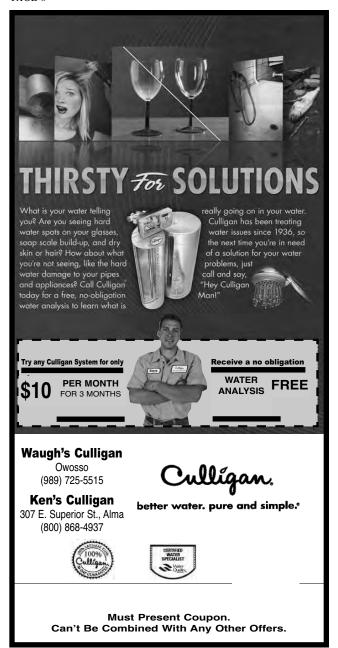

I just checked my email to see when I could expect a delivery.......I placed an order on Saturday and was told the item would be shipped out on Monday on UPS from Utah. I just checked the tracking number and was told that it may be here by Monday February 3rd .....providing that the Super Bowl in Florida doesn't mess up the process. Why that would cause problems is beyond me.....the major UPS Hubs in the United States are located in Louisville, Philadelphia, and Rockford not in Florida. So I wait....after all Florida is not between my home and the major hubs so why should it be a problem?

I've been thinking again...........I know what a scary thought! I really do miss the Farmer's Markets.......especially the small one in Elsie. I sold a lot of yeast breads, specialty breads, pies and cakes there. I'm wondering if I had a spot uptown to sell from if it would be worth the effort. Just a spot where I could chit chat with others as I sell baked goods........I really do miss the conversations and the enlightenment that came with them. Let me know what you think....you can contact me at Kriscroft1949@gmail.com (or call 989-862-4617).

Did I mention that I have been doing a happy dance this week? Everything is coming into place and I no longer need to share my truck. My freedom to roam when I choose is now back and I'm really relishing the freedom. I'm back to working around my schedule and it is heavenly. I believe that I just learned how it is to be on the other end of this stick. I know how exasperated I was and believe that they were as much chagrined. So count your blessings and try to get the other view......it does promote understanding and good will. God bless you.

Did You Know?

Alzheimer's disease, the most common form of dementia, is often mistaken as something that only affects aging men and women. While the Alzheimer's Association® notes that age is the biggest risk factor for Alzheimer's, the group also warns that even men and women nowhere close to retirement age can develop the disease. In fact, the Alzheimer's Association reports that, in the United States alone, roughly 200,000 people under the age of 65 have early-onset Alzheimer's disease. According to the Alzheimer's Association, many people with early-onset are in their 40s and 50s. Recognizing that Alzheimer's is not just for retirees but capable of affecting younger men and women with families and careers is important, as the Alzheimer's Association points out that healthcare providers typically do not look for signs or symptoms of Alzheimer's in young people. In such people, symptoms of Alzheimer's may be incorrectly attributed to stress.

Did You Know?

Do you relish the idea of an afternoon nap? If so, you're in good company. According to the National Sleep Foundation, John F. Kennedy, Winston Churchill, Napoleon, and Albert Einstein each fancied afternoon naps. Youngsters nap, and so do many seniors. But by and large, humans are part of the minority of mammals that do not sleep for short periods of time throughout the day, instead dividing their days between sleep and wakefulness. However, there are some benefits to catching a midday snooze. The Mayo Clinic says napping can be a way to catch up on sleep lost during the night or if a person is feeling sleep-deprived. It also may be a way to relax, increase alertness and improve mood. Naps should take place before 3 p.m. and not exceed 20 minutes. The longer and later one naps, the greater the potential it will interfere with night-time sleeping or backfire and cause daytime grogginess.

Results of Three Michigan 2019 Novel Coronavirus Specimens Come Back Negative

submitted by Lynn Sutfin

LANSING - Test results on three possible cases of 2019 Novel Coronavirus came back negative, the Michigan Department of Health and Human Services (MDHHS). Macomb and Washtenaw County Health Departments announced today. A specimen from a fourth possible case, from Washtenaw County, was sent to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) today for testing.

The CDC, MDHHS, local public health departments and the state's healthcare community are actively monitoring the outbreak originating in Wuhan, China. These efforts include special attention to people who present with symptoms of lower respiratory illness (cough or difficulty breathing), fever, and report a travel history that includes Wuhan or contact with an ill individual who is under investigation for coronavirus infection. These individuals are being considered for specimen collection and submission to the CDC for testing.

'We are pleased to announce that the results were negative from Michigan's first three patients under investigation," said Dr. Joneigh Khaldun, MDHHS chief medical executive and chief deputy for health. "We encourage healthcare providers to remain vigilant in screening patients for symptoms and travel history, and to contact their local health departments immediately if they see a potential case."

At this time, the only approved testing for 2019 Novel Coronavirus is available at the CDC. The MDHHS State Laboratory is facilitating the transport to CDC of any Michigan specimens that have been approved by MDHHS and CDC for testing. The CDC is working with the Federal Drug Administration and state public health laboratories to make testing more broadly available.

Given the number of specimens being tested nationally, no specific turnaround time is available, but results are expected within several days.

Coronaviruses are a large group of viruses common among animals and humans. In rare cases, the virus can be transmitted from animals to humans. This novel coronavirus is a newly discovered version that has not been previously detected in animals or humans. The source is not yet known.

2019 Novel Coronavirus has been identified as the cause of an outbreak of respiratory illness first detected in Wuhan. Investigations are ongoing to learn more, but person-to-person spread of the virus has occurred according to CDC.

Patients with confirmed infection have reportedly had mild to severe respiratory illness with symptoms of:

Fever

Cough

Shortness of breath

CDC believes at this time that symptoms may appear in as few as two days or as long as 14 days after exposure. If anyone believes that they have symptoms and have recently traveled to Wuhan, China, or have been in contact with someone who has had the virus, they should call their healthcare provider or hospital prior to arriving so that the appropriate preventive measures

Public health screenings for travelers from Wuhan have been implemented at five U.S. airports including Atlanta (ATL), Chicago (ORD), San Francisco (SFO), New York (JFK) and Los Information around this outbreak is changing rapidly. The latest information is available at Michigan.gov/Coronavirus and CDC.gov/Coronavirus.

Laingsburg Recycling on for February

submitted by Ellen Link

It appears for the moment that the Greater Laingsburg Recyclers aren't dead in the water quite yet. A meeting with the city's maintenance workers revealed that they won't be able to tear down the sheds we've been using and prepare that land for development as soon as hoped, so we were given permission to hold our February recycling drive in the same location (we may have to situate in the road itself). So please don't stop recycling yet—and bring your materials on Sat., Feb. 8, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. to the site on Roosevelt Row in downtown Laingsburg—unless there's a blizzard or below-10-degrees weather.

The town hall we held on Wed., Jan. 22 brought out a number of folks with good ideas and energy for helping to keep recycling alive here. We had noted that we not only need to find a new location but also new and younger volunteers to gradually replace our aging crew. With folks stepping forward to write funding grants, connect us with students looking for public service credits, and work at the drives, we've begun to hope that together we just might pull this off. So stay tuned as we go forward. Please feel free to email or call us with your suggestions and support. And thank your local newspapers for helping to make this all possible.

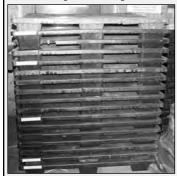

As always, recyclers from any community are welcome. A $2-$3 donation to help cover our costs is requested but not mandatory. For questions re: what we take or more information about anything mentioned, contact Terry or Ellen Link at (517) 651-2005 or Beth Lange at 651-6437. ### 2019 Water Quality Report for City of Ovid

This report covers the drinking water quality for the City of Ovid for the 2019 calendar year. This information is a snapshot of the quality of the water that we provided to you in 2019. Included are details about where your water comes from, what it contains, and how it compares to Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) and state standards. Your water comes from three (3) groundwater wells; one at 437 W. Front Street (approximately 50 feet deep), and two at 9240 E. M-21 Street (approximately 290 feet deep each). The State performed an assessment of our source water to determine the susceptibility or the relative potential of contamination. The susceptibility rating is on a seventiered scale from "very-low" to "very-high" based on geologic sensitivity, well construction, water chemistry, and contamination sources. The susceptibility of our source water is as follows: Well #2 (437 W. Front Street) rating = MOD-ERATE, Well #6 (9240 E. M-21) rating = MODERATELY LOW, and Well #7 (9240 E. M-21) rating = MODERATELY

There are no significant sources of contamination in the City of Ovid water supply.

- If you would like to know more about this report or the susceptibility assessment report, please contact; Donald Passmore, DPW Superintendent, City of Ovid, 114 E. Front Street, Ovid, MI 48866, ph.: 989-834-5550, e-mail:
- Contaminants and their presence in water: Drinking Water, including bottled water, may reasonably be expected to contain at least small amounts of some contaminants. The presence of contaminants does not necessarily indicate that water poses a health risk. More information about contaminants and potential health effects can be obtained by calling the EPA's Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426-4791).
- Vulnerability of sub-populations: Some people may be more vulnerable to contaminants in drinking water than the general population. Immuno-compromised persons such as persons with cancer undergoing chemotherapy, per sons who have undergone organ transplants, people with HIV/AIDS or other immune systems disorders, some erly, and infants can be particularly at risk from infections. These people should seek advice about drinking water from their health care providers. EPA/CDC guidelines on appropriate means to lessen the risk of infection by Cryptosporidium and other microbial contaminants are available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline (800-426
- Sources of drinking water: The sources of drinking water (both tap water and bottled water) include rivers, lakes, streams, ponds, reservoirs, springs, and wells. Our water comes from wells. As water travels over the surface of the land or through the ground, it dissolves naturally-occurring minerals and, in some cases, radioactive material, and can pick up substances resulting from the presence of animals or from human activity

  - Contaminants that may be present in source water include:

    Microbial contaminants, such as viruses and bacteria, which may come from sewage treatment septic systems, agricultural livestock operations and wildlife.
  - * Inorganic contaminants, such as salts and metals, which can be naturally-occurring or result from urban stormwater runoff, industrial or domestic wastewater discharges, oil and gas production, mining or farming
  - * Pesticides and herbicides, which may come from a variety of sources such as agriculture and resi-
  - * Radioactive contaminants, which are naturally occurring or be the result of oil and gas production and
  - Organic chemical contaminants, including synthetic and volatile organic chemicals, which are byproducts of industrial processes and petroleum production, and can also come from gas stations, urban stormwater runoff, and septic systems.

In order to ensure that tap water is safe to drink, EPA prescribes regulations that limit the amount of certain contaminants in water provided by public water systems. Food and Drug Administration regulations establish limits for contaminants in bottled water which provide the same protection for public health.

Water Quality Data

The table below lists all the drinking water contaminants that we detected during the 2019 calendar year. The presence of these contaminants in the water does not necessarily indicate that the water poses a health risk. Unless otherwise noted, the data presented in this table is from testing done January 1 – December 31, 2019. The State allows us to monitor for certain contaminants less than once per year because the concentrations of these contaminants are not expected to vary significantly from year to year. All of the data is representative of the water quality, but some are more than one year old.

Information about lead: If present, elevated levels of lead can cause serious health problems, especially for pregnant women and young children. Lead in drinking water is primarily from materials and components associated with service lines and home plumbing. The City of Ovid is responsible for providing high quality drinking water, but cannot control the variety of materials used in plumbing components. When your water has been sitting for several hours, you can minimize the potential for lead exposure by flushing your tap for 30 seconds to 2 minutes before using water for drinking or cooking. If you are concerned about lead in your water, you may wish to have your water tested. Information on lead in drinking water, testing methods, and steps you can take to minimize exposure is available from the Safe Drinking Water Hotline 1-800-426-4791 or at http://water.epa.gov/drink/info/lead.

Religious

Thoughts

Perhaps you've heard the phrase- "I don't believe in God because He throws anyone into Hell who doesn't worship

How's that for a statement? It doesn't put God in a very good light, does it?

While there are a lot of problems with the statement, one surprising part about it

For one, are we saying that God is not worthy to be worshiped? Should we worship something or someone else besides God?

Second, God has given people free will to choose to believe in Him or reject Him. If someone does not want to be with God, where should they go?

Third, in the Bible, God is presented in a different light, as one who invites people to Heaven and warns them against going to Hell.

For example, if I lived on a busy street and my wife and I warned my kids, sternly, but clearly and lovingly, "Don't go running out in the street or you will get hit by a car!" that would not make us mean or bad parents. Quite the contrary, giving a clear warning is the most loving thing to do in such a situation. And that is what God does with us.

God invites all people to be with Him and fellow believers forever. Did you know that on more than one occasion, Heaven is equated to a party?

Not a party of people getting drunk or causal hook-ups, but a party without sin or sorrow. No one will be double-dipping. No one will take the last slice of ham or finish off the dessert just

This is going to be a fun, everything-goes-right, kind of event. The food will be great, the atmosphere spot-on. And everyone will be having a super time that will last for all eternity.

Jesus Himself equated the Kingdom of God to a party. He says, "The kingdom of heaven is like a king who prepared a wedding banquet for his son... Tell those who have been invited that I have prepared my dinner: My oxen and fattened cattle have been butchered, and everything is ready. Come to the wedding banquet."- Matthew 22:2, 4

How did the Father respond when his Prodigal Son came home? "...the father said to his servants, 'Quick! Bring the best robe and put it on him. Put a ring on his finger and sandals on his feet. Bring the fattened calf and kill it. Let's have a feast and celebrate. For this son of mine was dead and is alive again; he was lost and is found.' So they began to celebrate."- Luke 15:22-24

Heaven will be fun! Heaven will be enjoyable. The main reason for this is because God is the "all" in all of Heaven.

The invitation is open to everyone who admits their sinfulness and in Jesus' deity, death on the cross and bodily resurrection from the dead as the full payment for your sins. Believe with your heart and mind and come to the party today.

All of the wrapping paper and bows have been put away and as we start looking ahead at preparing to take down the decorations; we look at what the New Year will bring. We spend so much time preparing our homes for family and friends, but do we spend very much time preparing and maintaining our hearts, where the Holy Spirit resides? We need to keep our temple properly clean and adorned for our Lord and Savior. Are we resting in HIM and HIM in US?

Let's look together at the scriptures to determine what that means, for us to be in Him and for Him to be in us. I was led by the Holy Spirit to look at the Psalms specifically.

'One thing I have asked from the Lord, that I shall seek: that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all the days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord and to meditate in His temple. For in the day of trouble He will conceal me in His tabernacle: in the secret place of His tent He will hide me; He will lift me up on a rock. And now my head will be lifted up above my enemies around me, and I will offer in His tent sacrifices with shouts of Joy; I will sing yes, I will sing praises to the Lord." Psalm 27:4-6 NASB

Now let's look at what this means for us today. This scripture tells us first to meditate in His temple. Well where is this temple that we are to meditate within...it's inside of us. We are the temple that God lives within. Wow! Let's now refer to the Lord's Word and look at what that means.

"Do you not know that you are a temple of God and that the Spirit of God dwells in you? If any man destroys the temple of God, God will destroy him, for the temple of God is Holy and that is what you are." I Corinthians 3:16 & 17 NASB

YIKES!!! We are Holy?!?! Yes, that's how God sees us as His children. When we accept Jesus as our Lord and Savior, immediately the Holy Spirit enters into our temple and blesses us in a mighty way!

I think we owe it not only to ourselves, but to Him to keep our temple Holy for the Holy One! He calls us Holy because of the Holy Spirit living inside of us, it is the greatest gift we could ever receive! Now let's look at the rest of the Psalter reading above.

God tells us next that with the Holy Spirit living in our temple, when we are in trouble God hides us from evil inside His Tabernacle. This is God's Holy place, His secret place, where no one can go but His own children! That's us, how great is that!! God in us and us in Him...who knew! So what do we do now you ask? We keep our temple clean and adorned with sacrifices of singing our praise and shouts of joy to the Lord. We do this not because life is easy or that it is without difficulties, but even through all of that the Holy One lifts us un above our enemy and out without difficulties, but even through all of that, the Holy One lifts us up above our enemy and out of the reach of evil even and especially when it seems to surround us. Remember, with the Holy Spirit living inside, you are always walking on Holy ground as he is in your temple and you are hidden in His Holy Tabernacle.

Be the people of the living God, not because we are Holy, but because when we are His, The Holy One lives inside of us. I pray that the Holy Spirit reveal Himself to you all in a mighty way all through the year! Happy New Year and may God richly Bless you my dear Brothers and Sisters

Visions of Wildlife

If you are in the market for some wildlife photographic prints from around the world, or just looking for something to do this coming Friday evening,

The Weekly Sportsman

by Dan McMaster theweeklysportsman@meridianweekly.com

please consider attending a showing at Absolute Gallery. Located in Lansing Old Town District, 307 E. Cesar Chavez Ave, Absolute Gallery will be displaying works from 5:00-8:00 p.m. from D. Eric Johnson's Visions of Wildlife collection.

Johnson has been a professional photographer since 1983 and has won many numerous awards and recognitions including two "top-ten-in-the-state" awards with the Michigan Professional Photographers Association of Michigan. While pursuing his photography career he also served for thirty years with the Michigan State Police and following retirement he combined photography skills with law enforcement experience to become specialized in the unique field of forensic photography. Currently Johnson is Michigan's only certified evidence and forensic photographer and one of only five worldwide.

His family has encouraged him to share his collection of thousands of wildlife images and on a very limited basis he is making prints available to those interested in sharing his Visions of Wildlife. What is really neat about all of this is his efforts to contribute all proceeds to conservations efforts. The Weekly Sportsman contacted Johnson for more information on his contributions and commitment to conservation and was amazed with his response. Funds are sent to three different conservation organizations; The David Sheldrick Wildlife Trust, Save the Rhino, and the Sepilok Orangutan Rehabilitation Center. So spend some time this Friday evening viewing some excellent wildlife photography and possibly support conservation around the world if you purchase pieces from the collection. If you have any questions about the event please contact Absolute gallery 517-482-8845 or visit www.absolutegallery.net. While you are there make sure you check out their line of Stormy Kromer merchandise!!!

Reminder: Saturday, Feb. 8th from 1:00-3:00 p.m. the Weekly Sportsman will be signing copies of Chronicles of the Weekly Sportsman Volume 1 at Owosso Books & Beans. There will be a special price that day with books being sold for 20% of the cover price of $24.99. Door prizes and wild game snacks will be provided and all are welcome to attend even if a book is not purchased. If you are interested in a book make sure you stop by Owosso Books and Beans or call 989-729-7336 to pre-order.

MSU Department of Theatre Presenting 'Into the Woods'

submitted by Abigail Tykocki EAST LANSING – MSU is giving the Tony Awardwinning fairytale-themed musical Into the Woods a creative re-imagining designed to resonate with mid-Michigan audiences. Inspiration for the set and costumes came from images of Detroit in the 1930s. The Michigan State University Department of Theatre production of Into the Woods by Stephen Sondheim and James Lapine runs for 10 performances February 14-23 in the MSU Auditorium building's Fairchild Theatre.

The story follows a childless baker and his wife in their quest to begin a family, a witch who puts a curse on them, and their interactions with other storybook charac-

Despite the familiar characters, this is not a show for young children. "It's a parable for adults," said Director a familiar story that becomes unfamiliar, exploring the frightening consequences of those decisions. It asks important questions, like what happens after your dreams come true?"

Exploring themes of resilience and community, the design team drew inspiration from the glamour of Hollywood in the 1930s as well as the growth of industry and sprawl of Detroit during the Great Depression.

"Our production lives in the space where industry meets uncultivated forest," McNish said. "The woods are a place where we can escape our responsibilities, but when tragedy strikes, people can only survive it by coming together. That's what makes Into the Woods the right show for this moment."

The production also will feature digital animation, media projection, and puppetry created by graduate students pursuing their MFA in Design alongside an incredible cast of musical theatre acting, singing, and dancing talent.

The musical continues to resonate with modern audiences because "from darkness emerges a story of community, resilience, and how we work to build something better," McNish said.

Tickets are available online at whartoncenter.com, at the Wharton Center box office, or by calling 1-800-WHARTON.
