Logan Douglass Completed Eagle Scout Project

by Dawn D Levey

ELSIE - In March of 2023, Logan Douglass attended the board meeting of the Elsie Area Food Pantry with an idea of building a sign for the Food Pantry for his Eagle Scout Project. Logan had heard from Aunt Diane Korieneck, one of the Food Pantry Produce volunteers, that the sign was something that was needed to make people aware of the days and hours they were open.

Logan Douglass presented Sue Peterson, from the Elsie Food bank with a check for $1,680.

$1680.00 which will go towards completing the lighting on the sign.

The Elsie Area Food Pantry would like to thank Logan for all he did for the Elsie Area Food Pantry and congratulate him on earning his Eagle Scout.

Logan is a member of Troop 585 from Ovid. His scout leaders are Dave Love, Steve Dennis, Arthur Jones, and Rebecca Ridenour Chilson.

After receiving the approval of the Board, Logan set out on a mission starting with completing the necessary paperwork, getting the approval of the Scouts, and earning money for the project. He took back hundreds of pop cans, held a pancake breakfast, and asked local businesses and organizations to support his project by donating funds.

The sign was installed on Saturday, October 7th. In addition to the sign, Logan repainted the existing Food Pantry sign, which was looking weathered. He purchased a metal tool box and organized all the magnetic letters for the new sign as well as constructing a sandwich board sign for Produce Days. Finally, he presented the Elsie Area Food Pantry with painting of the home by artist, Lisabeth Curnow, was presented to Mr. Lombardi. Students from Ovid-Elsie High School volunteered during the event.

Fall Tailgate at Leonard Elementary

submitted by Ashlee Murray

The cold and rainy night did not stop Leonard families from coming out to enjoy a Fall themed family night. On Thursday, October 19 nearly 500 students and families from Ovid Elsie Little Learners, KEEZ Preschool and Leonard Elementary gathered for an evening filled with hotdogs, hayrides, fire trucks and fun. Students traveled to different stations throughout the evening to fill their passports to earn a free Marauders Football ticket. Students tested their athletics with a football throwing competition and tried their concentration with an egg race.

Other activities for the night included, Candy Corn Ring Toss, Jack-O-Lantern Making, Face Painting, and a photo opportunity in front of this year's kindness banner.

The high school art department designed color by number posters for students and their families to paint. They will be hung throughout the school for all to enjoy. Attendees were also able to visit the Ovid and Elsie Public Library's stations to learn about what programs they have to offer.

Ovid-Middlebury Fire Department joined in the fun, by opening their trucks for a hands-on tour of their truck. They also surprised each preschooler and elementary student with their very own toy fire truck.

The evening rounded out with a cook-out served in the cafeteria and a hay ride around the school. Door prizes were given away that included baskets filled with OE gear, sports equipment and other amazing goodies. Winners of these baskets were Grant G. of Preschool, Lansten S. of Kindergarten, Noah W. of First Grade, and Charlee P. of Second Grade. It was a wonderful night had by all!!

The tailgate party would not have been possible without the help of the Leonard Elementary Staff, KEEZ preschool staff, Ovid-Elsie high school volunteers and all of the others that volunteered their time.

Editorial

A Little Common Sense

by Crystal Mitchell

How to start...just finished another mundane style week. Not too mundane, just fabulous at times.

For the past six weeks my slider has not locked and it was very hard to open or shut. My daughter's best friend's husband fixed it for me. This was a wahoo moment, though a bit on the minimal side compared to the fact that Randy also installed my new motion sensor porch lights. It is amazing to walk out onto the deck at six in the morning and being able to see the steps. As in no kittens or cats or other notable critters (like skunks, possums, or raccoon) on the steps to trip over. It is also wonderful to see the key slot in the door and not have to rely upon touch to get the key in place. These minor renovations have made my life simpler. Yup, I would call them a blessing.

Saturday evening I got to go to the Masquerade Party at the homestead. The theme was 'Haunted Farm' and there were many different costumes. The decor was fun. Not only colorful but macabre at times. The fun house that was created for the youngsters kept them thrilled. Plus they were able to grab a hand full of candy for each trek thru the tunnel of terror. The front yard was filled with pirates and a haunted ship, of course there were ghosts and grave yards in abundance. The flower garden at the bottom of the raised deck was filled with skeletons and grave sights plus the willow tree had swings filled with banshees guarded by a devil dog.

This is one of those weeks that I must have been having a lase about. I did get the buckets of vegetable debris removed from the deck and moved out to the back of the shed. The compost pile is growing but I am surprised that it is not decomposing quicker. Seems like it is just getting higher. That being said, I know that it will add some very good components to my garden area. As Tamoli said, my soil was abundantly rich for it had many different weeds. Of course what I planted mostly thrived well but per usual the weeds were bursting with energy. Someday I may have the perfect garden, as in weed free. Maybe that will happen when I minimize the size of the garden and the variety that I plant.

I finally replaced the kitty litter box, I need to have a couple of my cats in the house because I do live in the country and as there is a harsh change in weather the darn mice always seem to find a way into relative safety and warmth for the winter. Too bad that they are not polite enough to use the food dish, water dish and the litter box. They have a tendency to wreck havoc and create messes. The truth be told that I am messy enough and don't need their expertise in this area. So I brought Tiny Terror into the house and she was interested in the possibilities until she realized that Miss Prudence does not share her territory very well. Pru's private area seems to move as I move and extend from my person to encompass a six foot radius. This is not conducive to making Tiny Terror comfortable or happy. I had hoped to have both Tiny Terror and young Miss Thunder would be installed by now. I have just not been too successful yet.

I got to sleep in this morning. I was walking into MG's a few minutes after seven. I only needed to be there to fill a special order for pies. Of course I needed them to be cooled so that I could put them into pastry boxes for travel. The caramel apple ones were awesome and eye appealing, I was a bit disappointed in the other two, I know that they will taste fine but my ego was not pleased with their presentation. Egos can be very demanding.

I have had another good week and have my sights set for Saturday. I already have the cat carrier and blanket in the pick up so that I will be able to return them. I also have figured out what to make and take for the potluck dinner at the close of this year's Farmer's Market. It will give me a chance to talk to our group. May God bless you with time to visit and share and enjoy your bounty.

BOO! ... There's Witches in the Air. But, We Don't Care
Dear Andy,

I love fall and decorating for Halloween. Carving pumpkins, roasted pumpkin seeds, baking, watching the leaves change colors and the wind blowing with vigor. It tickles me to answer my door on October 31st to see the children dressed in funny costumes, and scary faces and imitating their storybook or cartoon heroes...but it annoys me to no end when I see High School kids trick or treating, some not even dressed up. Should I send them away and tell them they are too old for such nonsense or just hand out candy like it grows on trees.

Old Neighbor Witch

Another, Dear Andy,

My teenagers want to go trick or treating and I think they are getting too old. What do I tell them or should I allow them to go. I hear people complain and I don't know if there is an age limit. My kids think you are right about some of the things you write, so I told them I was going to ask Andy. They said to go for it. What is your opinion on teenagers out in the streets for treats? Young mom

Dear Readers, young and older,

I love seeing teenagers come to my house. In fact, I give them the BiG full-sized candy bars. No matter someone's age, everyone likes candy and they are worth it. I do insist the teenagers say "Trick or Treat" and "Thank you." I also have special treats for the teenagers I know from the neighborhood. If they are not in costume, I try to guess who they are..... a salesman, a bum, a teenager, a ghost? I tell them they better dress up next time or they're only getting one candy bar next year. Tricked them...they only get one candy bar, anyway. Te he he he he.

Better than having them on the streets stealing candy or bullying the younger children out trick or treating. Or, breaking up pumpkins and covering their teacher's trees with TP. When my house was covered with TP, I sent my kids out to reroll it and make them use it. TP is expensive! Oh, now that's funny... especially if they don't get out all the pine needles.

If you really think your kids are too old, take them to a scary movie or have them set up a spook house for their friends, and plan a bonfire, after the witching hour. Most areas in our nearby towns have limited hours. Typically 5 to 7 or 6 to 8. Teenagers are just kids, too. Life is too short when you are young, help them plan to create fun teenage memory. In my opinion, nothing wrong if a teenager is having appropriate fun with friends on a scary night. Some VFWs, Lions Clubs, City Chambers, and Churches often have a trunk or treat. Some have costume contests and treats. See if your teen could help out with setup, games, or judging. Create situations for your teens. Not just on Halloween. They are still kids that need guidance.

Happy and Safe Halloween, The Neighborhood Witch...

Oregon Angler Cashes In

An unnamed Oregon resident earned $107,800 for catching 10,755 Northern Pikeminnows while participating in the 2023 Sport Reward Program. Every year bounties are paid to reduce but not eliminate the population of Northern Pikeminnows as they prey on millions of salmon and steelhead juveniles. The event runs for five months from May through September and the 32 annual average harvest is 160,000. This year's harvest was just 4,000 below that average but participation was up by nearly 10% with almost 12,000 participants. The first 25 in one season are worth $6 each; after 25, they're worth $8 each; and after 200 they're worth $10 each. As a bonus, Special tagged Northern Pikeminnow are worth $200 - $500.

If you are looking for a part time seasonal retirement job maybe spending summer on the Columbia and Snake River systems is the right ticket for you.

Thrilling Marauder Football Victory Clinches Playoff Sport over Standish, 28-27

OVID-ELSIE — The host Marauders mounted two touchdown drives in the final 8:00, keeping their 2023 football season alive with a thrilling 28-27 victory over non-league Standish-Sterling at Mark O'Donnell Field.

Michael Bancroft snared a Tryce Tokar TD with :53 seconds left to play, and exchange student Pau Gifre connected on the most-important PAT kick of his young American football career, lifting O-E to 5-4 and into the MHSAA playoff picture — guaranteed.

Coach Travis Long's Marauders came out determined to throw the ball ... yet with limited success. Tokar completed just 37% of his aerials — 16-for-43 — but the end result can't be argued, producing all four of the Marauder touchdowns.

"Our boys are a resilient group. We challenged them two weeks ago to finish with a winning season, and tonight they found it," explained O-E head coach Travis Long.

The contest roller-coasted between quarters, the 1st and 3rd going to Standish, the 2nd and — decisive — 4th stanza going to the Marauders.

Standish-Sterling scored first behind 230-pound running back Jacob Bartlett, who teamed with quarterback Brody Sullivan on Sterling's impressive 67-yard first drive, punctuated by a 33-yard reception by slotback Trace Collins from Sullivan.

Sullivan scored on a one-yard keeper moments later, after a long punt return by Collins to the O-E 13-yard line. The try for two failed, however, giving the Marauders some fuel.

They used it. Clayton Fruchey stepped on the gas on a 61-yard pitch-and-catch from Tokar, the last 35 yards on a sprint. Gifre booted the first of four crucial PATs and it was 13-7, visitors.

O-E got the ball back in the second quarter and continued throwing. Jamison Custer reeled in a 35-yard strike from Tokar with just :06 seconds left before intermission, and Ovid-Elsie's "Cardiac Kids" were showing up — despite faltering again in the 3rd quarter.

The Panthers owned the third period, on TD runs from 4 yards and one yard bulled in by Barlett and Sullivan, respectively. Both PAT kicks were true, with S and S seemingly in control at 27-14.

Not so fast. Tokar hooked up with a favorite target, Javin Belill on a 56-yard strike to the Panther 6 yard line. On 4th and 11, the Cardiac Kids struck again on Tokar's TD strike to Custer near the back line in the end zone.

Standish then coughed the ball up with O-E defensive leader Owen Long pouncing on the fumble. Tokar hit Custer with a 54-yard strike, setting up Bancroft's heroics to end the contest.

Ovid-Elsie abandoned the run game — literally — held to negative one yard on the ground. Tokar finished the game with a career-best 312 yards and four TDs passing. Fruchey was the Marauders' leading receiver. He finished with eight catches for 188 yards and one TD. Custer had four grabs for 58 yards and two scores.

Isaac Orta, Long, Custer, Cole Workman, Fruchey, Hunter Bates, Tokar, Carter Kelley, Brock Spitzley, Cohen Brown, Belill, Joe Bancroft, Braxton O'Bryant and Brady Risinger all recorded tackles for the Marauder defense.

O-E prepared for its first home playoff game in years, hosting the Ida Bluestreaks, also 5-4 in MHSAA Division 6 last Friday evening.

Bear Season Ends in Mayville

by Ashleigh Shaw

Ashley traveled to Mayville in the last game of the regular season last week losing 66-14. The Bears had trouble with turnovers, having 4 interceptions on the night.

"We hung tight for about a quarter and a half then the wheels came off. Our receivers weren't reacting to the ball very well tonight. We have to get better at helping our quarterback and winning some 50/50 balls" said Coach Saylor.

Offense was at a minimum for the Bears, but quarterback Robert Kral did throw for 86 yards and had 43 yards rushing, while Jon Snider also rushed for 25. Kral also lead the defense with 10 tackles.

Wolfpack Still Makes MHSAA Post-Season After 30-7 Setback

ESSEXVILLE — The host Dukes returned the opening kickoff to pay dirt, then left little doubt about their chances at a winning prep football contest here October 20.

A resounding 30-7 non-league victory over coach Brian Borgman's Wolfpack still didn't dim Laingsburg's playoff chances, the Wolfpack slumping to 4-5 with their second-straight loss, while MHSAA Division 5 Garber improved to 5-4.

Sunday night the Wolves — shunned from the playoffs despite being CMAC champions with a 6-3 record a year ago — learned they would be making a return trip to play Bath, their longtime neighboring, league rivals. The MHSAA postseason opened last Friday evening on the Bees' home field, where LHS had won 17-6 on September 29.

Bath entered the playoffs at 6-3 overall.

At Essexville, Sawyer VanDorn fired up the home crowd with a 90-yard return on the opening kick, and though the Wolves stopped the two-point conversion try, the Dukes led 6-0.

LHS grabbed its only lead of the contest, still in the first quarter. Jack Borgman ran it in from four yards out, and Jack Audretsch's PAT kick made it 7-6.

After that, advantage all Dukes. They scored three consecutive TDs before the end of the third stanza, on a 20-yard pass from Everett Listerman, another 24-yard TD completion, and yet another 24-yard hookup, with VanDorn running in the two-pointer for a 30-7 final.

Wolfpack QB Lucas Matthews connected on 12-of-18 passes for 110 yards, five of those to senior WR Vance Klont for 46 yards. Wyatt Wagner (34 yards), Audretsch (25 yards), Borgman (15 yards) and Max Powers (12 yards) also caught passes for the red-and-white.

Borgman enjoyed a fine night rushing the ball, with 109 yards and a score on 13 carries. Powers added 17 yards on the ground and Matthews, 10.

Borgman, Wagner, Audretsch, Klont, Alex Forcier, Dylan Koenig and A.J. Dellvon all had tackles for the Wolf defense. Both teams ran 55 plays, with the Dukes holding a 328-268 advantage in total yardage.

GRIDIRON

Wow.

The Guru never feels a need to apologize, but after Week 8 of our pugnacious pigskin perusal, he may just have to reconsider.

It was rough, folks. Several of our season leaders slumped to sub-.500 records for the slate, and the guru-ific Wolfman himself was a ho-hum 6-6. So much for the werewolf entering his favorite time of year — Halloween.

Whatever.

Week 8's toughest picks proved to be an Ivy League treat (Princeton over Harvard) and the Detroit Lions' bandwagon loss — brutally — at Baltimore.

Cathy Coe of St. Johns outdistanced everyone else (there were dozens of entries) with a 9-3 mark, good for a yummy Halloween pizza.

The Guru will be running the contest every week until the end of the regular college football season (no bowls), and including six picks in the NFL week.

It's simple, fast, easy to play and FREE. For those who play every week, there will be a winner's prize fund to be disbursed at the end of the season for whoever ends up picking the highest total of winners.

First place - $100; second place - $60 and third place - $40. Just pick your winners and make a check mark to the right of their name on the entry blank below. Just pick who you think will win the game outright. Weekly, we will be granting a free pizza (1st place), sub sandwich (2nd) and breadsticks (3rd).

MOST IMPORTANT: make sure your entry gets to The Weekly before each Thursday at Noon.

Don't forget to fill in the tiebreaker as this will decide any and all ties. Entries are accepted in person at The Weekly's offices at 200 S. Main in Ovid, by e-mail at "news@meridianweekly.com" or "tomturek20032003@yahoo.com," or via USPS delivery.

For those of you that get your Weekly fix on line at the paper's website -- remember to email your picks to news@meridianweekly.com.

The Wolfman offers up these lyanthropic lollipops as his predicted winners: Clemson, Oklahoma, Texas, Missouri, UCLA, Michigan sans cell phone video, Chiefs, Saints, Vikings, Eagles, Giants, Bills.

Coaches please remember to send your results every week to be included in the Meridian Weekly! email to: news@meridianweekly.com or Tom Turek at tomturek20032003@yahoo.com
